DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) The invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) The invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

(e) The invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

2. Claims 13-32 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Rinconb-Mora et al. (U.S. patent # 6,188,211).

Rincon-Mora et al. disclose the claimed subject matters a power regulator (figure 1 and 4), including a negative transient response (column 7, line 40-45), a positive transient response (column 9, line 1-9) and transient response (column 5, line 1-5, line 30-60 and column 7, line 45-50), a sense transistor (figure 1, item 28), a current source (figure 1, item 34). In regards to claims 17-20 and 24-28, the utilization of bipolar transistor or MOS transistor is a obvious design choice (In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416). In regards to claim 32 (column 8, line 65-70).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 33-45 and 52-55 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rincon-Mora et al. (U.S. patent # 6,188,211) in combination with Roberts et al. (U.S. Patent # 6,166,850) and Norris et al. (U.S. Patent # 5,477,858). Rincon-Mora et al. disclose the claimed subject matters as explained in the claims 1-32, above, except the utilization of the technique for a slow transient response and fast transient response and an amplifier including a transconductance stage, a boost circuit, and sense circuit. However Roberts et al. teaches the utilization of similar technique for a slow transient response and fast transient response (column6, line 60-70 and column

7, line 1-25) and Norris et al. teaches the utilization of technique for an amplifier including a transconductance stage, a boost circuit, and sense circuit (figure 10C, item 2006 and 2124). It would have been obvious one having an ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Rincon-Mora et al.'s voltage regulation circuit by utilizing the technique taught by Roberts et al. and Norris et al. for the purpose of enabling/disabling of a control system by operation of a transient magnitude threshold sensor.
